Only Few Get Increases For Salary Year

In most instances no changes were made in the salary schedule of Randall county for the year of 1953.

The County Treasurer and District Clerk received a boost from the salaries of the past two years, the amount set at $3750 per year, or $750 increased salary.

Other salaries remaining the same were:

County Attorney, $4,250 per year

County Clerk, $4,650.

County Judge, $3,000, plus salary for ex-officio school superintendent.

Justices of the Peace, $3,000.

Sheriff, $5,000, with deputies at $300 per month.

Office holders who use their own cars on county business are paid 8 cents per mile.

County Agent and Home Demonstration Agent, $1,600, plus $500 for car expenses.

Court house janitor, $2,550.

Veteran Service Officer, $986.40.

Members of Commissioners Court, $2,500, plus $50 per month car expenses.

Jury of View to Take Up Dispute At 6-Mile Crossing

At the monthly meeting of the Commissioners Court, an attorney for Mrs. Irene Hamilton of Amarillo asked damages from $18,000 to $20,000 to her land when the new road is built across the 6-Mile Crossing. The State Highway Department has set this up as a Farm-to-Market Road, with Randall county furnishing the right-of-way.

The claim for damage was rejected and a jury of view ordered. The Commissioners have not announced the selection the selection of the man to represent the public. A second man will be named by Mrs. Hamilton and two will select the third member of the jury.

15 Cases Set for District Court

At least 15 cases are on the docket for District Court when it convenes February 2nd. District Clerk Ethel Mullins said the cases consisted of both criminal and civil.

A special venire has also been ordered for February 16 for the capital cases that are on the docket.

Bill Andis Named to House Committees In Regular Session

State Representative Bill Andis writes from Austin that he is well pleased with his committee assignments for the regular session of the legislature. He invites citizens to visit him at Desk 14 in the House during their stay in Austin.

The following are committees to which he is assigned: Aeronautics, Constitutional Amendments, Motor Traffic, Public Lands and Buildings, and State Hospitals and Special Schools.

Clearance Sale Is Highly Successful

Worth Jennings stated Tuesday that he was proud of the great response which greeted his opening but that he was totally unprepared for such a large number of people. The store did not have adequate clerks to properly take care of the large number of customers, he said.

Jennings said he hoped to offer personalized service to all his customers in the future. He feels that perhaps some mistakes were made in the midst of the sale and he would like to extend his apologies for such mistakes. Any mistake made during the sale, he hopes can be remedied by future service to the public.

Worth is no stranger to the public of Canyon. Before leaving here for Arizona he and his brother, Jack, were in business together. Today Jack has the ladies clothing firm next door to Worth's new location. Worth spent approximately three years in Phoenix, Ariz., and returned here in December to purchase the men's clothing firm formerly owned and operated by Mrs. Faye Cooper Johnson.

City Proposes Buy Radio Plant For Officers

Dudley Bayne, city secretary, appeared before the Commissioners Court last week explaining the need for the city of Canyon and Randall county to install a radio plant for the use of firemen and peace officers in Randall county.

Mr. Bayne explained that the city had investigated the radio system and that Randall county was among the few counties which did not have such equipment.

Under the plan the sheriff's cars and fire trucks would be equipped with radios which would be operated for call from any part of the county. The cost for installing such a plant would amount to about $1500 and it would require that the city and county would jointly employ a full time operator. The reduction in insurance would pay the expense of the radio equipment, stated Mr. Bayne.

No action was taken at the meeting of the court on the project.

Emergency Hay To Arrive Soon

The first car load of Randall county's drouth emergency relief hay is on the road here and should arrive sometime this week. Shipments will probably continue until the complete allocation of hay arrives here, probably in March.

Application for the drouth emergency hay was made last Sept. through the United States Department of Agriculture here. Those who applied for the hay put up deposits. Those filing during the first part of November got their applications approved. The program was discontinued during the early part of November.

Few People Pay Poll Tax This Year

Approximately 1,000 poll tax receipts had been paid by noon Monday, according to figures at the office of the tax assessor and collector. Tax Assessor Bill Money stated that he expected a light sale in poll tax receipts this year because it is an off year for election.

The tax assessor also pointed out that it was probably more important to pay your poll tax this year than in a general election year because of the local elections. One of the decisions to be made will be that of school bonds to finance the building of a new school. It is important that every eligible voter be represented in this election.

Deadline for poll tax payment is January 31.

City Club Elects New Directors Monday Evening

Annual meeting of the stockholders of the Canyon City Club is to be held at the club house at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, January 26, for the purpose of electing new directors for 1953. Charles Donnell said a fire would be built in the fireplace and that a light lunch and refreshments would be served.

Donnell stated that the meeting was starting somewhat earlier than usual because of the lunch and refreshments. Those present will eat and enjoy the refreshments before taking care of the business of the evening. For this reason, members are requested not to eat supper before attending the meeting.

The club is also planning two dams to be constructed across the creek in order to improve fishing conditions. After the dams are completed the creek is to be stocked with fish. One dam will probably be completed this week for members to see and inspect. Later a well is to be drilled on the club grounds to help supply water to the creek.

Students at West Texas State are observing "Dead Week," with final examinations for the first semester beginning Wednesday morning and continuing through Friday afternoon. Each examination period is of two hours duration.

Students reentering for the second semester, however, will be given photostatic copies of their records to date, including the first semester's work. These photostats must be presented during registration.

Mrs. Melton and W. T. McGregor attended a meeting of the Red Cross held in the VFW Hall in Amarillo last Thursday. The meeting was a sort of kick-off for the coming Red Cross Drive.

New Honorary President of Boy Scouts

President Eisenhower, seen with Boy Scouts at the National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., in 1950, has become Honorary President of the organization. He said he accepted the honor "in full confidence that I can support the aims and principles of the Boy Scouts without reservation."

Eisenhower Now Honorary Head Of Boy Scouts

Upon taking office last Tuesday, President Dwight D. Eisenhower also became honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America.

In a letter to John M. Schiff, president of the national council, Boy Scouts of America, President Eisenhower states: "Thank you for your gracious letter inviting me to become honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America.

"Having previously served on the Committee on International Relationships, the National Court of Honor, and the National Executive Board of the Boy Scouts of America, I accept in all humility the honor which you proffer me, in full confidence that I can support the aims and principles of the Boy Scouts without reservation."

Like his predecessors of the White House since 1910, President Eisenhower will serve as Honorary President of the Boy Scouts of America during his term of office. He is the second president to have had active relationship with the organization before entering the White House, the other being Franklin D. Roosevelt.

President Eisenhower became a member of the Boy Scouts' National Executive Board in 1948. Three years earlier than this he was aware of what "boy power" could do when properly organized under qualified volunteer adult leaders. During those crucial days of 1945 this power was used to collect waste paper for the war effort.

In a message the president had this to say about the organization: "The Boy Scout movement merits the unstinted support of every American who wants to make his country and his world a better place in which to live. Its emphasis on community service and tolerance and world friendship promotes a speedier attainment of the enduring peace among men for which we all strive.

"By developing among its members both a spirit of sturdiness, self-reliance and a realization of the need for cooperative effort in every major enterprise, the movement is a prime force in preparing tomorrow's men for their duty to themselves, their country and their world.

"Here in the United States the Boy Scouts of America has accomplished much in its years of service. But today, more than ever before, we need expansion of its membership and influence."

Drive For March Of Dimes Began Here Monday

The March of Dimes for 1953 began in Canyon and Randall County Monday, January 21, and will continue through January 31.

Truitt Hull, chairman, announced that Bernard Warren and Charlie Donnell would work the business houses with the special containers provided by the National organization. Beverly Beck of West Texas State College will co-ordinate the campaign on the college campus.

Treasurer for the campaign is Don Standley of The First National Bank and all groups and organizations are urged to make their collections and turn them over to the treasurer.

A basketball game between the Rotary club and the Lions club for the benefit of the drive has been proposed but a definite date has not been arranged.

The campaign will be closed with "Mothers March on Polio," with women of various groups canvassing the entire town.

Because of the steady increase in the number of polio victims, the 1953 March of Dimes Drive is being intensified and everyone is asked to give as generously as possible.

Contract Let For Telephone Lines

R. W. Shackleford, assistant manager for the Mid-Plains Rural Telephone Corporation, Inc., said Tuesday that the contract had been let for construction of telephone lines. He stated that equity payment of members would do a great deal right now to speed up telephone service for members.

The contract was awarded Wednesday, January 14, for the construction of rural telephone lines in Randall, Armstrong, Swisher, Briscoe, and Castro counties. Irlby Construction Company of Jackson, Miss., were the low bidders with $587,508.68. This amount is to construct 1,123 miles of line to serve a total of 1,250 rural subscribers.

Local directors of the cooperative are: John Vorwald, Umbarger; Burce Fields, Arney; Clayton Devin and Henry Hamblen, Wayside; W. O. Hudson of Happy.

Shackleford also pointed out that work on the right-of-way is also progressing and is almost completed.

Theft Warnings Given; Serial Numbers Desired

Sheriff L. S. Johnston said Friday that this was a good time for farmers to mark such equipment as batteries, tires, motors and tractors. This equipment should be marked for identification because soon it will be out where there will be a greater possibility of its getting stolen.

Last year a number of batteries were stolen from irrigation well motors. Some of them were recovered promptly because they were marked.

The sheriff also announced that he was getting up a permanent record card file on such items as guns, typewriters, vacuum cleaners, or any other appliance that may have a serial number. There is a sound reason behind such a card file and this is it, if you have an article stolen the sheriff will have all the information he needs to work on at his fingertips. Such a file may save a lot of valuable time when there's a burglary or theft.

The information can either be mailed to the sheriff or dropped off at his office sometime when you are in town. If you prefer to keep this information at home the sheriff pointed out that it should be kept where it could be found on a moment's notice in the event your home is broken into.

Johnston also said that in many instances when a serial number had been filed off it could still be determined through the use of chemical analysis.

He is currently assigned as assistant training officer at the USAF Retraining Group.

Lt. Miller is the son of Coach and Mrs. W. A. (Gus) Miller.

VFW Views Films At Stated Meeting

Luke Miller, commander of the VFW Post 5681, said that a most successful meeting was held at the Hall Thursday night, January 15. Hot coffee was enjoyed and several films were shown.

Miller said he hoped to get more and better films in the future. The films Thursday night lasted approximately one hour. One film was about the Air Force; one concerned the B-17's in Europe during World War II, and the last two film were about keeping the fleet at sea and a training film on diving.

The commander stated that the next meeting is to be held on Feb. 5 and that it will be a joint meeting of the VFW and the Auxiliary. Miller says he hopes to have some films for the gathering but is not sure that it will be possible.

A Few Observations As The Days Roll By . . . .

As of yesterday, you may now call him President Eisenhower!

Many Americans could not conceive of such a thing when the name of Eisenhower was proposed a few months ago as the Republican nominee.

In the first place, there has been too much suspicion of a military man in the White House; then there was the old, old scare of a Republican being elected, with the resulting Hoover depression; and then there was the feeling that after 20 years in power no Republican could beat any Democrat.

Perhaps the latter state might have prevailed if Truman had not assumed that he had a mandate from the people to use the office of president for his own benefit and for the financial gains of the men with whom he had surrounded himself in office.

This all added up to an Eisenhower victory.

The people were sick and tired of being fleeced out of their hard earned money by a gang of thieves who were protected by the man in the White House.

The people were tired of paying higher and higher taxes for less and less benefits of government.

Regardless of what may happen in the future, conditions can be no worse under Eisenhower than they have been under Truman, so the people flocked to the polls and kicked out the Democratic administration.

We are wondering just what was in the back of Truman's mind as he packed up and got ready to move out of the luxurious quarters which the people had provided for him and his family. The White House is a magnificent place, and perchance Truman would not have been so anxious to spend so much money on remodeling the structure had he known that a Republican would succeed him.

We feel sorry for Governor Stevenson of Illinois. He wanted to run for a second term, but was persuaded by Truman to accept the nomination for the presidency. Had Truman stayed out of the race, Stevenson might have won; with Truman running the campaign, there was no chance for Stevenson to win.

As the situation now stands, the Governor is out of a political job. He was once defeated for president. He will have lost all connections with the public by the time 1956 rolls around. Democrats talk about running him again. His case may be similar to that of William Jennings Bryan, the three-time defeated Democratic nominee.

We feel that the nation is in good hands with President Eisenhower in Washington and Governor Shivers in Austin.

The legislature started off with a bang Tuesday. House committees were announced on the opening day. This is in contrast to the old method of wasting a week or so while the Speaker made up his mind as to whom he wished to appoint on committees.

There was something new in connection with the present session. The University of Texas performed a fine service in holding an advanced school of instruction for the 86 new members of the House and two new members of the Senate.

Those who have looked upon all kinds of work in connection with higher education have a new thought coming. This was a real service, and something which all new members should appreciate.

Peter Molyneaux is dead! He was an able writer, who grew sick and tired of the brass collar which Texas Democrats attempted to saddle off on its members. That is, all voting Democrats in Texas. It is little wonder that so many members resented the brass collar and never went to the polls to vote.

The dream of Molyneaux came true when Texas voters kicked over the Democratic traces and voted for General Eisenhower in November.

Last week we urged all qualified voters to pay their poll taxes in order to be able to vote during 1953.

If there was no other election in the making for 1953, the election in which bonds for a new school building will vote should cause every voter to be able to participate.

It will be a shame and disgrace if when this election is held that a minority of the voters approve bonds which must be paid during future years by property owners.

The children of Canyon are entitled to the best school plant in the nation. We must not build unless we build the best.

When your child or your grandchild asks what part you had in the educational system of Canyon, certainly no one will want to admit to these children, or this child, "Well I was too lazy or too stingy to go and pay my poll tax so I could vote. All that I could do was sit on the side lines and gripe about the waste of money to provide for an adequate school plant."

Frankly, the people of Canyon are not that kind of people.

They have never turned down a bond issue during the past 42 years in which we have been a citizen of this community.

They want to provide for their children. That is the reason that they live in this educational center of Northwest Texas.

Let's all march to the court house and buy a ticket on the train of progress by voting for a new school plant for the children of the Canyon Independent School District.

Senator Wayne Morse has learned a hard lesson. He quit the Republican party to vote for Governor Stevenson for the presidency. Now he is disowned by the Republicans and shunned by Democrats.

After all, the fellow who expects to live by politics must play the game fairly and squarely. He must stay with his party, regardless.

Speaker Sam Rayburn told Eugene Worley when he went to Washington as a Freshman Congressman that this was the way politics was played.

No wonder that Rayburn was out to support Stevenson, and worked for his election.

The Republicans think a whole lot more of Senator Price Daniel for having deserted his party on a principle and then returned to the Democratic fold, than they think of Morse who deserted them in time of need.

Evangelist Billy Graham is back from Korea where he preached to the fighting men at the front. He says that America has been caught in a "Bear Trap."

How descriptive this really is. How true.

In spite of the bragging which we have heard about our wonderful foreign policy, and what is going to happen to America after Eisenhower takes over, certainly no evidence has been shown as to the result of our bungling.

"We are headed for a depression, just like we had following condition of 1928-29," stated a visitor in Canyon the other day.

We have been fearful of just such a condition as a result of foolish things which are taking place in this nation.

We are spending ourselves into a depression as surely as the night follows day.

This visitor went on to explain how he had checked the installment buying of a workman in his plant. With an income of about $90 per week, his installments amounted to virtually that much. "How does he feed and clothe his wife and baby?" asked the observer.

This visitor related the plight of scores of other people in his community; those with incomes ranging from $600 to $700 per month, who have nothing left after meeting their monthly installments.

This is a real curse to the welfare of the nation, and a threat to the future security of millions of people. When men obligate themselves to pay out more than they receive, they not only threaten the future of themselves, but of the nation as a whole.

Think before you buy.

Thrill killers struck in Amarillo, with one murder being committed in Randall county. While we could never see any thrill to killing an innocent victim, let it be remembered that these same killers will have a lot of public opinion on their side when they come to trial.

The grand jury of Potter county has protested the wave of silly propaganda which has been launched in that community against taking the lives of those who are so flagrant with the peace and dignity of the community in which they live and the lives of those with whom they come in contact.

A few years ago we were taken to task by a criminal lawyer because we criticised his defense of a criminal in the courts of Randall county, and his methods of procedure. We stated that the criminal laws of Texas were written by the criminal lawyers for the benefit of the criminal element, and not for the protection of the law abiding citizens of the state.

This criminal lawyer took the position that the laws were fair and equitable. Yet he failed to defend his own action, and those of other criminal lawyers who openly violate every item of honesty and decency in the manner in which criminals attempt to defeat the laws and are encouraged in their trials by such criminal lawyers.

We have no idea of getting involved in any argument with any criminal lawyer as to his method of operation. However, if we decide to go out and kill some innocent victim, we know the very type of criminal lawyer whom we would employ—provided we could get enough cash together. Oh, no, justice would not be done, but it is pretty safe to say that we would escape the electric chair.

This is not meant as a criticism of the court or the lawyers who make an honest effort to give justice to the criminal. These fellows are criticised for a lot of things for which they are not responsible. But it is time for all of us to realize that the innocent must be protected as well as the criminal must be punished.

Athletically inclined persons are wondering where athletics are headed.

Unless a community or a college can produce winning teams, they cannot expect to make money; and if they do not make money they cannot long exist or be expected to improve.

Perhaps the radio and television shows have done more to reduce attendance than the athletic boards are willing to admit. Folks simply do not go to the trouble to exert themselves when they can sit peacefully at home and view the games at a distance. There is a lot of physical exertion in going to see any kind of an athletic contest.

Baseball clubs over the nation are folding up because of lack of support.

Attendance to other games have declined.

The cost of producing winning teams is on the incline.

We have no formula to offset this trend. We simply lay the problem before the people in its cold form.

The other day we congratulated the new County Judge, Roy Joe Stevens, for imposing the maximum fines upon men arrested for driving while intoxicated. We now do so publicly. The arresting officers have always enjoyed splendid relations with the courts in this county.

It makes us furious to pick up national magazines and see page after page of advertisements from the liquor houses, depicting the use of liquor among the higher society of the nation.

Wonder when these same brewers will see fit to run a series of pictures of drunken drivers; drunken sots in rags and bloated faces; the half starved wives and children of these drunkards who are in rags as the result of liquor?

No, the liquor interests will never picture these persons. They are interested in degrading millions of men and women down to the level of drunkards through the method of an occasional social drink.

Despite what many people say, the younger generation is not worthless, though many of the younger set today have never seen a depression, might not know the value of a dollar—yet.

This land of the free is fast becoming the place where minorities, organized and aggressive, are telling the majority of the people what they must do.

Organized groups which are led by ambitious leaders sometimes interfere with democracy and the rights of the unorganized majority.

This community is just as progressive as we make it, and offers our children only those opportunities and advantages we provide them.

It's almost time to start talking about baseball training, again, and exhibition games.

Most people take themselves pretty seriously.

BOYCE HOUSE Gives You Texas

The daily in Eastland, of which I was editor, installed a teletype (a machine which receives telegraph news, hour after hour, and types it out). Something went wrong with the machine and a local electrician came over to work on it.

It was a cold day and there was lots of snow on the ground. He asked, "Did you hear about the Ranger boys?"

"No; what about them?"

"They hooked their sled onto the bus and they thought the driver saw them and would stop at the end of the street and let them unhook. But he didn't know the sled was there and so he kept on going, of course."

Because of the snow and ice, he wasn't driving very fast but it seemed plenty fast to those three boys, especially when the bus would go around a curve and that sled swung wide and it was all they could do to hold on, particularly as their hands were almost frozen — because it was mighty cold rushing through the open air.

"When they got to Eastland, they had to be helped off the sled."

I sat down at the typewriter and wrote an account of the three "stowaways" and sent for a messenger boy.

The electrician finished working on the machine but was looking it over to see that everything was all right and he happened to look up at the sheet of paper where a news item was being typed off. It was the account he had given of the three boys and their exciting ride on the sled!

Without a little fun once in a while, what a bleak place this world would be.

There was a capitalist out in West Texas who was born in Sweden and he had the habit of hard work that characterizes that race. He also was frugal.

Johnson (we'll call him that—because it was not his name) was a former student of the University of Texas and always attended the ex-students' banquet on March 2. On one of these occasions, the speaker told of the Memorial Stadium, then under construction, and said:

"I believe there is a man within the sound of my voice who has prospered to such an extent that he would like to give $25,000 to this great enterprise. If there is, I ask him to stand."

Johnson leaped to his feet and there was wild cheering. His chair had been "wired" and, at the proper moment, the button had been pressed, turning on the "juice." Everybody knew about this in advance except him. (He did make a generous gift—but not $25,000).

PHSPA To Meet Here On March 7

Annual convention of the Panhandle High School Press Association will be held at West Texas State on March 7, it was decided last Saturday at an executive committee meeting.

Floyd Wood, Dumas High School student, who is president of the association, and Sarah Colwell, Canyon High School, secretary, met with Vaughn Vandergriff, who has directed the day-long meet for the past few years, to decide a program.

Between 150 to 200 high school journalists attend the yearly conferences, which have for several years come to the WT campus. The affair will include section meetings during the day, with two main speakers at morning and afternoon sessions. Presentation of awards in the annual contests usually climaxes the meeting.

MUSIC ARTS CLUB GATHERS IN WINSTON WILBANKS HOME

The Music Arts Club met in the home of Mrs. T. Winston Wilbanks on Monday evening, Jan. 19. Upon arrival, the group was served a delicious dessert by the hostess. Miss Matilda Gaume, program chairman for the evening, then presented Mrs. Herman Demus, who, in the absence of Mrs. Houston Bright, read a paper, which had been prepared by Mrs. Bright on the life and works of Alban Berg, composer of the music for the Expressionist opera, Wozzeck. She passed around clippings from the New York Times with pictures of the N. Y. production of the opera.

Then Miss Gaume discussed and demonstrated on the piano the comparatively new atonal, or 12 tone system for writing music, upon which the music of Berg's Wozzeck is based. She read excerpts from the book, "Music Since 1900," concerning this opera. Among these reviews, it was hailed as an artistic event by some, and decryed as madness by others. She then played a recording of the last act of the opera. It was received with interest by the membership of the club.

Those present were: Mrs. Herman Demus, Mrs. Glenn Dowlen, Mrs. H. R. Fulton, Miss Matilda Gaume, Mrs. Ples Harper, Mrs. Tom Knighton, Miss Isabel Robinson, Mrs. Dan Sanders, Mrs. T. Winston Wilbanks, Mrs. W. R. Wilson, and Miss Ada V. Clark.

CENTERVIEW H. D. CLUB ANNOUNCES ACTIVITIES

The Centerview Home Demonstration Club met Friday afternoon, Jan. 2, with Laudie Brazil. A "42" tournament was planned to start at the school house on Saturday evening, January 17, sponsored by the club women.

Miss Patterson was present and gave a demonstration on winterizing your home. She showed pictures and slides to more fully express her talk. Refreshments were served to Miss Patterson and to eight members.

On Friday, Jan. 16, at 2:30 p. m. the Centerview club met with Grace Schaeffer as hostess. The president, Vivian Myers, called the meeting to order. Roll was called and minutes were read by the secretary, Gerry Wise.

Constitution and by-laws of the club were read by the secretary and approved by the members. Plans were completed for the "42" tournament which was to begin Saturday.

Refreshments of Hi-Ho sandwiches, cookies, and cocoa were served to Vivian Myers, Theo Wise, Ora Evans, Gerry Wise, Laudie Brazil, Evelyn Shipman, Colleen Schaeffer, Madge Sutton, Lizzie Wesley, La Venia Amerson, by the hostess.

The next meeting will be with Evelyn Shipman on February 6, with the demonstration being on desserts.

Miss Graham Talks On Recent Trip to The Downunder

Miss Edna Graham spoke Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon on her trip to New Zealand and Australia during the past fall.

Flying over the water was much more delightful than flying over mountains, stated Miss Graham. Most of the trip was made at an elevation of 19,000 feet, the ship making 350 miles per hour.

There are only two million people in New Zealand. She described the wonderful lakes, waterfalls and mountains of New Zealand. The entire world could be supplied with electrical power if there was a way to transport this power.

Roads are poor; herds of sheep and cattle are driven across country; busses are controlled by the government, running one day out of three; flowers are plentiful and beautiful; homes are simple and well constructed; farms are very productive; American machinery is at a premium.

Camerra, capital of Australia, was planned by an American, with American and British type homes.

The Labor party, admitting that it is Socialist, opposes the conservatives, now in power. Benefits are paid to nearly every one.

Miss Graham talked with the mothers of five war brides who now live in America. They are highly pleased with this country.

A Floydada man, former W. T. graduate, was called to New Zealand to show this nation how canning should be perfected. Miss Graham met a man from Denver, who was head of the museum there, and who has visited in the museum on the campus.

She talked with another man who's son was damning the Americans, but this man had explained how the Yanks had saved their country from the Japs, and how much they owed to the Americans for their work.

Next week will be the annual election of officers of the club who will take office on July 1st.

March 24 will be another ladies night when the secretary of Rotary International will speak.

Visitors were John Williams and W. F. Haggard of Canyon; Ken Morrison of Oklahoma City; Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Brian, Guy Carlander, Lowell Munday, Tom Gallagher, Carl R. Schell, Van H. Allm, Joe C. Rogers, J. J. Sanders, all of Amarillo.

Red Cross Helps In Polio Battle

The nemisis of polio has been discovered in the serum known as gamma globulin. Recently the American Red Cross was called upon to undertake an immediate and dramatic expansion of its participation in the National Blood Program to make available all the gamma globulin possible for the prevention of paralysis from poliomyelitis.

During the past two years the Red Cross provided the gamma globulin for experiments that were conducted over the past two years in Provo, Utah, Houston, Texas, and Sioux City, Iowa. Experiments were conducted under the auspices of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis as a part of their total research program.

It requires about one pint of blood to make an average dose of gamma globulin. The need for serum will probably be so great next summer that it's important to get a good lead on the demand. Although the striking power of polio appears to be seasonal the workers trying to halt the disease continue their efforts the year around.

Mrs. Ida Byrd of Lookeba, Okla., visited last week with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Byrd.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Terry, Jr., and family of Amarillo visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Terry, Sr., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Shaver of Knox City are visiting in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Tom Lair.

R. T. McDaniel returned this week from Ruidoso, N. M., after spending two weeks there.

Mrs. Gweldell Woodburn and daughter of Amarillo visited Sunday in the A. B. Berry home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hefley of Wheeler is visiting in the A. B. Berry home.

Mrs. Suzanne Tatum is teaching economics in Magdalena, N. M.

Mrs. Worth Jennings left Monday for Phoenix, Ariz.

Jack Jennings is at the Dallas market this week.

FARM PROFITS

The farmers' share of consumer spending for food has dropped to the lowest point since the beginning of the Korean war, according to the Agriculture Department. Farm prices declined three per cent in December, ending the year 12 per cent under the level of a year ago, or at the lowest level in more than two years. The farmer-producer's share of the food dollar has slipped to an average of 46 cents, compared with 49 cents a year ago and 50 cents for the 1951 average.

THOROUGH JOB

San Francisco. — Two young holdup men did a thorough job of robbing a taxicab driver — they not only took his fares, but they took every stitch of his clothing, including his false teeth and $20 of his own money. A nearby house wife provided the cabbie with a burlap sack and police later found the abandoned cab containing the clothes, the hidden $20 bill — and the false teeth.

PUBLIC BUBBLE BATH

London — A prankster turned Trafalgar Square's famous fountain at the foot of Nelson's Column into a frothy bubble bath — to the delight of passers-by but the consternation of public officials. The joker poured detergent into strategic spots around the pool and water from the fountainheads churned it into snowy lather.

SHOOTS AT DEER, KILLS FATHER

Cross City, Fla.—Seeing a deer's antlers through the brush, Bob Rosier, 23, let loose with his rifle. The shot killed his father, W. H. Rosier, 51, of Ganesville, Fla. Rosier had just shot the animal himself and was bending over to cut his throat, when his son, sighting the antlers, also shot.

MISS EUROPE TO WED

Istanbul, Turkey. — Miss Europe of 1952 — Gunseli Bashar, 20 — has announced her engagement to Kutsi Begdesh, 35-year-old Turkish business man, who earned a doctorate in economics at Indiana University and later taught there from 1938-44.

RECKLESS DRIVER, 2

Detroit. — A reckless driver, without a driver's license, sent his car careening across a lawn and right into a house. The driver was Anthony Widby, 2, who had been left in the family car by his father for just a moment.

Vice Admiral Charles E. Rosendahl, retired, a United States expert on lighter-than-air craft, foresees an atomic powered airship that circles the globe and carries its own fighter planes. The metal-covered, helium-filled airship would be so big as to put Model T League," predicts the officer.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

General Eisenhower is a little disturbed by the fact that France—even with a direct national interest at stake—refuses to send drafted youths to fight in Indo-China to save that country from the Communists. The United States drafts its youths to fight a United Nations war in Korea.

John Foster Dulles, as Secretary of State, will review basic U. S. policy, which accepts France as the keystone in the defense arch in Europe. There is increasing question among U. S. military men about the dependability of France in time of any crisis, owing to political problems.

The Eisenhower Administration is going to find a place for professors and so-called "intellectuals." The big administrative jobs, however, are going to men experienced in management, not to men with fancy theories.

Mr. Truman has confided to friends that he thinks Ike may have clear sailing for about a year and then will face serious division within his Administration. The Truman idea is that Ike's troubles will come when the boom ends and one group of advisers and aides will favor a hands-off policy by Government while Eisenhower and another group will favor action by Government to prevent a real bust.

Joseph Dodge, Budget Director, is going to make a serious effort to cut down on the number of forms businessmen must fill out and to simplify such forms that cannot be dispensed with. For 20 years, business has been annoyed by the paper work required by Government.

The idea of a processing tax—a tax on farm products at time of processing—is being restudied as a possible means of finding money to help pay for farm programs.

Ike has warned top men in his Administration against qualifying for the title "blabbermouth"—as bestowed by Robert Lovett, retiring Defense Secretary. Newspapermen, for the moment at least, are surprised by the relatively "leakproof" character of the Eisenhower Cabinet. The contrast with Truman and Roosevelt Administrations is sharp.

Searchers after economy in the Eisenhower Administration are getting tips that large sums can be saved by application of business methods to the warehouse systems of the armed services and to the operation of ordnance districts where billions are spent. Waste on a grand scale is reported.

Retiring Defense Secretary Lovett sparked only casual interest with his idea that more power over the military establishment should be lodged in the Secretary of Defense and less in the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Congress is more inclined to trust the military than some civilians.

Spite is being credited in Congress with an important part in producing the Justice Department proceedings against the Kansas City Star on a criminal charge of violating antitrust laws. This paper uncovered vote-fraud cases in Missouri in elections in which Mr. Truman was interested.

Egypt's Premier Naguib is angry with U. S. because this country said "No" to his request that Egypt be permitted to acquire arms in this country. The Egyptians, like the Iranians, figure that U. S. is playing very close to the British on Middle Eastern policy.

The Emir of Kuwait, reputedly the world's richest man in terms of current income, is becoming restive about his agreement with the British. Although his royalties run to more than a million dollars a week, the Emir can get his hands on only 1 million dollars a year for spending money and cannot finance many of his ideas.

Ibn Saud, King of Saudi Arabia, is finding that Communists are becoming active in the holy cities of Medina and Mecca, where poverty has been acute in the pilgrim season. The oil money of this kingdom goes largely to tribal leaders who are pictured as slow to pass along benefits to the people. The underground is beginning to turn out Communist newspapers.

Use Bottle Opener And Not Teeth To Open Bottles

It's impressive to be able to pry off bottle caps with your teeth, but it's much smarter—from a dental health point of view—to use a bottle opener.

And using a cigarette holder looks dignified, and it helps keep stain off your fingers, but it doesn't do your teeth any good, State Health Officer George W. Cox says.

Dr. Cox can count off some 36 everyday, commonplace habits that the great majority of Americans, including Texans, practice in one degree or another that are injurious to mouth tissue.

Lip biting is one such habit. Others are clenching or grinding teeth, picking them, chewing on match sticks, tooth picks, holding nails or bobby pins between the teeth, and thumb sucking. Biting on straw or the ear loops of eyeglasses, or chewing on pencils can also cause trouble.

Also said to be detrimental to teeth and gums is the practice of leaning your chin in the cup of your hands. It causes side pressure that is sometimes injurious to both teeth and jaws.

"This has to be a pretty consistent habit, though," the health officer asserted, "before it will be damaging. But it is something to watch."

Ever experience obscure headaches, tenderness at the temples, or tenseness in face muscles? These might be signs of faulty closure of opposing teeth which is reflected in mouth tissue.

WT Ex, O'Keefe Makes Good In New York Television Shows

Winston O'Keefe, now a successful television show producer, recently remembered his alma mater, WT, in a letter to Joe A. Bailey, assistant coordinator of public services.

Bailey plans to use some of O'Keefe's experiences in a new publication to be printed by the department of public services. The producer is remembered as a classmate in 1929-30 by Milton "Buff" Morris, executive secretary of the Ex-Students Association. He was a speech major, active in campus drama productions. His hometown was Panhandle.

O'Keefe operates a "Television Package Business" in New York City, in partnership with Joel O'Brien. This merely means they build shows, sell them to advertising clients, and then produce them over the air. Last spring, however, the company had a panel quiz show on Columbia Broadcasting System, which was rather unique.

Cartoon Panel

The radio program included on its panel nationally known cartoonists, including Abner Dean, Bill Holman (Smokie Stover), and Hilda Terry (Teena), and alternating cartoonists such as Chad (Howdy Doody), Harry Haenningsen (Penny), and others.

One of the cartoonists would be given a problem, book titles, famous sayings, etc., and, unknown to the others, would have to translate the problem into cartoon form in two minutes time. The remainder of the panel would then have to guess what the problem was.

"At the moment," O'Keefe wrote, "we are building a new women's program, entitled 'It's A Woman's World,' starring Madeleine Carroll, which we hope to have ready to go on the air in January."

Film Script

In addition, the business has just completed a film script for the American Friends of the Middle East. This is a series of modern documentaries, to be filmed in the Middle East, and directed toward increasing understanding of the region on the part of Americans.

Prior to going into business for himself, O'Keefe produced in 1949-50, the Ford Television Theatre, which, until that time was the outstanding major dramatic show on the air. The next year, O'Keefe produced Showtime USA, a variety show done in collaboration with the American National Theatre and Academy.

O'Keefe was formerly managing director of an open air theatre in Washington, D. C., which operated in Meridian Park. He was also the managing director of a new producing group in New York called New Stages, which got considerable critical acclaim for their production of "The Respectful Prostitute."

Wing Days

"Now we are back to the American Theatre Wing days in 1947, where I founded and directed the Professional Training Program," O'Keefe said. "This was a fascinating program, accommodating professionals of all kinds, singers, actors, technicians, writers, and teachers in all walks of the entertainment industry."

Before his time with the Wing, O'Keefe spent over four years in the Army. Before the war, O'Keefe was an actor for seven years on Broadway, appearing in ten plays.

Historical Writing Contest Slated

Southwestern Historical Writer's contest, sponsored by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, will again be held this year, according to Dr. L. F. Sheffy, secretary of the society and history department head at WT.

First and second prizes of $100 and $50 will be awarded to winning manuscripts. Purpose of the contest is to stimulate wider interest in the collection and use of historical materials of the Southwestern plains.

The contest is open to everyone, but slight preference will be given to amateurs, Dr. Sheffy said. Material that has not been previously published is especially desired.

Papers may be written upon any historical subject dealing with any phase of the history of the Southwest. Reminiscences, diaries, biographies, letters, town and county histories, or the history of institutional developments of any kind will be acceptable. Emphasis will be placed upon human interest and general historical value. All papers must be documented with bibliography attached. Dates and specific locations should be emphasized wherever possible.

NEWS LETTER

From Congressman WALTER ROGERS of the 18th Congressional District

The Inauguration

This letter is being written several days in advance of the Inauguration, but will reach you very shortly after President Eisenhower takes up the reins of Government.

If the weather for the Inauguration remains as it is today, the new President will take office in weather closely akin to early Spring. I sincerely hope that the weather remains good because there are many, many people from all over this country and from foreign countries converging upon the Capital City to witness the orderly transition of the government of this country from one administration to the other.

The orderly and peaceful transfer of the reins of government under democratic processes is a deep and moving occasion to witness first-hand. It is difficult for the mind of man to fully envision the tremendous burdens that are shifted from the shoulders of one man to the shoulders of another in a period of approximately 30 minutes.

During this election year I have had the opportunity of talking at length with a number of foreigners from many places around the world. Some of them had witnessed these operations before but found it difficult to believe that the heat of the campaign would not leave some scars and deep wounds that would mar this transition.

Others who had come to this country in recent years simply could not believe that it was possible. By the time you read this letter these people will have watched this transfer of the reins of government without so much as one mishap and with very little fanfare, trumpet blowing and clamor insofar as the serious side of these proceedings is concerned.

They will at the same time witness the celebrations, the parties, the balls, and the many other social activities incidental to the proceeding, in which activities the men, women and children taking part will demean themselves as ladies and gentlemen and true Americans united in their beliefs that the primary interests of all is the welfare of this great country in which it is our good fortune to live. The incidental proceedings, such as the social activities, will of course consume the greater part of several days.

Soon after these invitations were in the mail there was a great scramble around Washington by the menfolks seeking to rent dress suits with long tails. Many of these rental suits no doubt have a rich history. It is entirely possible that some of them were worn by former Presidents, and it is highly probable that many of them have been worn by high dignitaries, both domestic and foreign.

I am sure that if these suits could talk, they could tell some interesting stories.

The hotels, tourist courts, and tourist homes are all full and overflowing, and every available room in Washington has been commandeered by the housing committees. Many of the people coming to the Inauguration will remain in the Pullman cars in the railroad yards. I understand that they have all of the comforts of home except shower bath facilities. These they have to obtain inside the Union Station.

Organization of Congressional Committees

The first order of business after the Inauguration is the final formation of the Congressional Committees and their organization. There has been much time spent in arranging these committees in view of the close division in the House.

As most of you know, I have served the past two years on the Veterans Affairs Committee. I have now been assigned to the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs. This is the committee in the House in which the Tidelands Bill properly belongs. This committee also has to do with all of the public lands, which should include the Continental Shelf, that is, that portion of the Continental Shelf beyond our tidelands. The conduct of the operations and development of this Continental Shelf will be of vital interest to Texas and the other states bordering on the ocean. I am looking forward with a great deal of interest to the work on this committee, but I will also work very closely with my former committee, the Committee on Veterans Affairs.

ZITA HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB MEETS JANUARY 13

The Zita Home Demonstration Club met in the Bailie McCormick home, 2600 6th, Tuesday, Jan. 13.

Mrs. Emil Olson presided at the meeting. After old business was disposed of, she retired, turning the meeting to the incoming president, Mrs. Forrest Gruner.

Mrs. Donald Olson gave a report of T.H.D.A. Mrs. Gruner appointed committees for the coming year.

The standing rules of Randall county were approved but the Zita club constitution was not approved as read. Mrs. Gruner appointed a committee to study it. The committee is composed of Mrs. Emil Olson, Mrs. Wayland Angel, and Mrs. E. A. Michael.

Miss Lou Ella Patterson, Home Demonstration Agent, showed several slides of style show and of properly landscaped farm homes. Mrs. Arthur Olson's home was especially well planted and lovely.

Refreshments were served to the following guests: Mrs. Mary Upchurch of Amarillo, Miss Lou Ella Patterson; and members, Mesdames Forrest Gruner, Frank Gruner, E. A. Michael, Arthur Olson, Donald Olson, Emil Olson, H. D. Rose, Ralph Ruthart, Glenn Truax, and the hostess, Mrs. McCormick.

The next meeting will be an all day meeting at Mrs. Arthur Olson's home.

AUSTIN: Austin's big show — the 53rd Legislature — is now well under way.

The legislators got down to real business this week. Last week the members convened for only one day.

They heard the message of Gov. Allan Shivers. And in the House, Speaker Reuben Senterfitt appointed committees.

Then the House and Senate adjourned until this week.

Even so, progress was ahead of schedule. Usually, House committees cannot be appointed for some time after the election of a speaker.

But, Senterfitt's election was assured in advance. Thus he was able to have his appointments ready on the opening day.

** ** **

Texas can increase its spending for necessary services without large boosting of taxes.

That was a cheerful note in the governor's address to the members.

More money is coming in from existing revenue sources, so that the governor's recommended $172,529,000 for general revenue appropriations is within the officially estimated state income for the next two years.

The budget is about $6 million higher than the present level of state spending.

Additional money for roads, Gov. Shivers believes, should come from another penny-a-gallon tax on gasoline. Otherwise, if the Legislature wants to spend more money, it should increase the natural gas transmission lines "if it can be done in a legal way," the chief executive said.

He recommended salary increases for state workers and teachers, and the construction of a $6,725,000 tubercular hospital plant and buildings at the Texas School for the Deaf.

** ** **

Freed from the legislative halls after adjournment, the newcomers among the solons were invited to attend an orientation seminar conducted by the University School of Law.

Twenty-five speakers, including public officials, university professors, lawmakers, and others told the freshman legislators something about their jobs.

But it was old stuff to Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe. He is in his 23rd year in the legislature and has served longer than any other lawmaker in Texas history.

The runner-up is C. E. Nicholson of Port Neches, who has served 22 years in the House.

Another veteran is Rep. S. J. Isaacks, 83, of El Paso. He was sworn in for the first time on January 13, 1903, but he has not served continuously and is now in his ninth term.

Helping the House with its business is Chief Clerk Clarence Jones of Trenton, who was re-elected to that position without a contest. Former Representative Omar Briggs of Denison defeated Former Representative W. A. Swindell of Commerce, 74 votes to 71, for sergeant-at-arms. But, Swindell will be chief doorkeeper. Fred Caldwell of Austin was re-elected reading clerk.

** ** **

A legislator, like anybody else, has to look out for himself. Thus it was that both houses finally passed Senate Bill No. 1, which appropriates $750,000 for mileage and per diem pay of members and employees and expenses of the session.

** ** **

Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg was selected president pro tempore of the upper house. Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey of San Augustine, by virtue of his elective office, is the regular presiding officer of the Senate.

** ** **

As the session moved along, there seemed to be a fair chance that no new taxes would be imposed upon the people.

In his opening speech, Speaker Senterfitt echoed Governor Shivers' sentiments on economy. "Let us demonstrate that economy is truly an essential part of good government," he said.

Then, in his committee appointments, Senterfitt showed that he meant business — economy business. For example, he named a conservative, Representative Max C. Smith of San Marcos, as chairman of the appropriations committee, which passes on legislative spending.

** ** **

Harmony was also a goal of the legislators, and a plea for this objective was voiced by Representative Bill Daniel of Liberty, brother of Senator Price Daniel.

On the opening day, Rep. Daniel asked to make Speaker Senterfitt's election unanimous "so that there may be a mark of harmony, unity, and accord. We should give our support to Mr. Senterfitt. So much must be done."

Rep. Daniel had at one time considered opposing Senterfitt for the speaker's job, but later withdrew.

** ** **

There was a sad note in the whole procedure for four-year-old Ronnie Senterfitt, who saw his father sworn in as speaker. Ronnie complained that there wasn't any ice cream.

** ** **

Texas' top state officials are more than irked over President Truman's latest move. They are plain mad!

Truman's last-minute act of his administration in turning the tidelands over to the navy was proclaimed by Governor Shivers as sour grapes and an attempt to get back at Texas for choosing Texas-born Ike as President, over Truman's candidate, Adlai Stevenson.

Land Commissioner Bascom Giles termed the action an outrage and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd declared the state might file an injunction.

The President's act did not increase his popularity around the statehouse.

President Eisenhower has said not once but often that he favored returning the tidelands to Texas and that he would sign such a bill if passed by congress.

Truman has twice vetoed such legislation.

Last Tuesday was something special in American history. All inauguration days are that, of course. But nowadays radio and television bring a new president and his family closer than ever before to the everyday folks in Washington, D. C., and Washington state, and the many Washington counties of the United States.

To women Tuesday was more than an interesting display of "pomp and ceremony." It had all the qualities of an exciting novel or play. In imagination, they projected themselves into the role of the new First Lady for a day. They felt the excitement of the floodlights and the flattery and the fun. But they also understood some other things, too:

She becomes the mistress of a 54-room house that isn't even her own;

She must direct — and make friends with — 64 servants, many of whom know more about her job than she does;

She must give up most of the 'free choice' evenings with her husband during the next four years;

She must learn to hear and read bitter things said about him without losing her sense of humor, or her faith in her man;

She must at the same time be alert for, and pretend not to notice, snobbishness, insincerity, and deception.

Yes, fame is fun to read about, to see in a movie, or on t-v. Yet hardly a woman in the United States but went back to her kitchen on Wednesday morning with a sigh of relief that the next four years of her life wouldn't have to be spent in a gigantic goldfish bowl.

Rebekah Lodge Elects Officers

Canyon City Rebekah Lodge 350 elected the following officers for the coming year: Mrs. Mae Bond, Noble Grand; Mrs. Glassis Pitt, Vice-Grand; Miss Columbia Redfearn, secretary; Mrs. Myrtle Western, chaplain; Mrs. Margaret Cole, warder; Mrs. Lola Stevenson, conductor, and Mrs. Dolly Taylor, side guardian.

The retiring Noble Grand is Mrs. Myrtle Stratton. Mrs. Stratton will be a representative to the Rebekah Assembly of Texas at Fort Worth in March. Mrs. Margaret Cole is alternate representative.

The lodge meets on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month at 3:00 p. m. in the basement of the Methodist Church. The lodge urges members to be present and visiting Rebekahs are also welcome.

Book Club Names Officers for Year

The biennial election of officers took place in the business meeting of the Woman's Book club at its first 1953 gathering last Wednesday. Mrs. C. A. Murray will succeed Mrs. James P. Cornette, as president; Miss Darthula Walker, Mrs. A. A. Clark, as vice-president; Mrs. Lige Frieze, Mrs. J. W. Kleinschmidt, as secretary; Mrs. Lee Johnson, Mrs. Frank Kimbrough, as treasurer; Miss Mae Simmons, Mrs. T. B. McCarter, as parliamentarian; Mrs. Frank Morgan, Mrs. L. A. Donnell, as critic, and Mrs. H. C. Campfield, Mrs. Lee Foster, as Federation Councilor. Mrs. Lon Fanning was elected to represent the club on the library board.

Officers elected at this time will take office the last meeting of this club year.

Other business transacted included the presentation and acceptance of the resignation of Mrs. Evetts Haley, who is now living away from Canyon.

Announcement was made concerning the opportunity to see some excellent movies through the cooperation of the Olympic and Varsity Theatres and the community. "Henry VIII" was seen last week, and the next show of the series will be "Red Shoes."

During the study period, 20 members of the club enjoyed a program on "West Germany," presented by Mrs. Charles Harter; and "Adenauer" interpreted by Mrs. S. B. Loudder.

Present at the meeting were Mesdames Ben D. Beck, C. R. Burrow, James P. Cornette, L. A. Donnell, C. M. Dowlen, Lon Fanning, Lige Frieze, Walter Graham, Harter, Kimbrough, Kleinschmidt, T. H. Knighton, Loudder, McCarter, R. A. Neblett, T. V. Reeves, Irving SoRelle, Clyde Warwick, A. W. Sternenberg, Miss Edna Graham, Miss Simmons, and Miss Walker.

Two of Ten Best Pictures of '52 Slated Locally

"The Quiet Man," a motion picture selected by a popular trade magazine as the best filmed in 1952, is coming to the Olympic Theater Sunday and Monday.

Another picture selected as one of the ten best by the same publication will be on the Olympic's program on Tuesday and Wednesday. This picture is highly unusual in the fact that it never has a spoken word in it.

"The Thief" is the title of the picture. Ray Milland has a part in it somewhat comparable to the Oscar-winning role he played in "Lost Week-end."

The photography in "The Thief" is proclaimed as excellent. The picture gives an excellent photographic description of New York, Washington, D. C., and Georgetown.

DOUBLE STAMP DAY EVERY TUESDAY

Just Between You, Me and . . . the Gatepost

(By Lawrence Hunnicutt)

Last week a number of merchants extended congratulations to a new business on the west side of the square. The formal opening of the Breakfast Club Cafe on Thursday of last week was a return favor which gave free do-nuts and coffee to all visitors.

Joe Gill was another one of those fathers who was walking on air last week. He was the proud father of a new baby girl. Mrs. Gill was a great help in getting the baby here and from all reports Joe is still doing fine along with Mrs. Gill and the new baby.

Those people who were hoping for an early spring had a rude awakening last week. Winter blew a frigid breath across the plains just to show people which season is still boss in these here parts.

Last week we missed a meeting of the Red Cross at the VFW Hall in Amarillo. The importance of the meeting stemmed from the fact that it was giving information on the part the Red Cross is playing in obtaining the new drug to combat polio. The Red Cross is actively engaged in this work as well as that of obtaining blood for the armed forces.

Some of the bad places in the pavement about the square were patched up last week. The patchwork was a great improvement as the snow and freezing weather we had back in November and December did a great deal of damage to the pavement.

A move is underway to promote a youth recreational program for youngsters this summer. It is not a move by grown-ups to give the youngsters an ideal program, but rather a move by the youngsters themselves to grasp the initiative and guide their own recreational program. Of course these youngsters will need the help and cooperation of the adults in the area. There may come the time when they will need a little money but the most important things they can receive are cooperation and encouragement.

Something new is being added to the column and we hope you'll like it. We're going to try getting a "citizen of the week" in the column for awhile and see how it works out. Glenn Waggoner of the Chamber of Commerce has promised to assist us by having that organization select the citizen. The first two or three citizens will be our selection because they're going to be the leaders of the Chamber of Commerce.

This week our selection was Glenn Waggoner himself. He is the secretary-manager of the C-C, 28 years old, married, has two children, a boy and a girl, a member of the Lions Club and the First Baptist Church.

Waggoner's home town is Perryton where he got his high school education. He spent 28 months in the United States Army Air Force and six months of this time was spent in the European Theater on B-17's. He was discharged from the service at Amarillo in October, 1945.

After leaving the service Waggoner attended the University of Colorado at Boulder. To help defray expenses while in Boulder, he sold life insurance. He also worked for the Bureau of Reclamation as assistant supervisor in the property office at Denver, Colorado.

Upon returning to Perryton he worked as assistant manager of a shoe store. He had worked for the owner of the shoe store before entering service.

Glenn went into Chamber of Commerce work by accepting the position of C-C manager at Spearman. He was there two years and left there about eight months ago to come to Canyon. Waggoner is a graduate of the Southwestern Institute of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

And now we head fearlessly into the realms of comedy commonly known as Chirps of Wisdom.

Whether you believe it or not a tree is a she. She gets a new outfit every spring and lives off the sap during the winter.

A lot of wolves like to hang around a woman with a past. Probably hoping that history will repeat itself.

A psychologist is a man who watches everybody else when a good looking girl enters the room.

Buffs Drop First Game of Border Conference Race

The Hardin-Simmons Cowboys won a battle of nerves with the tall West Texas State Buffaloes at Rose field house Saturday night, stalling the ball the most part of the final two minutes and 15 seconds to rack up their fourth straight Border Conference victory, 64-61 and stay in the running for the loop crown.

The scrappy Pokes fought an uphill battle for three quarters, taking their final lead in the thrilling cage contest with 4:45 left in the final period on a jump shot by Larry Roberts that put them out in front, 57-56. From there on there was no stopping the Cowboys.

Field goals by Durward Smith and Bob Tremaine and a charity toss by Tremaine boosted the margin to 62-56 with 3:01 remaining but Troy Burrus and Dennis Walling cut it back to 62-60 with 2:15 left to put the partisan crowd on edge for the thousandth time during the game. Then Coach Bill Scott ordered the stalling tactics, with Doyle Brunson, Smith and Roberts playing the playing catch near the midcourt line with the Buffs trying desperately to get possession of the ball. The tactics continued until giant Troy Burrus slammed into Roberts with 20 seconds left and went out of the game with his fifth personal foul. Roberts calmly sank both tosses and school was out.

Troy Burrus was the high man for the losers with 19 points while James Scott scored 14 and Walling 12.

Associated Growers Of Hereford Are Fertilizer Dealers

Establishing themselves as Fertilizer Headquarters for this entire trade territory, Associated Growers of Hereford, operated by J. J. Paetzold and Sons, who are the pioneer vegetable growers, packers and shippers of the Mid-Plains. They were among the first to grow potatoes, carrots and lettuce in the territory and since that time have pioneered in the adaption of fertiliezrs and chemicals for greater and better quality crops of all kinds.

This outstanding concern's experience and research in the use of anhydrous fertilizer enables them to be of great value to all of our farmers. Many are planning this year's fertilizer program and Associated Growers' manager, Larry Loerwald, will be glad, and without obligation on your part, to go into detail and give the benefit of his wide experience and technical knowledge and recommend the proper fertilizer to meet your specific need. He has been a local resident of the area for 23 years and has been associated with farming, the implement and farm chemical and fertilizer business.

This area has rapidly grown from a negligible acreage to one of the leading vegetable producing sections of the Southwest and in this development, J. J. Paetzold & Sons have played a most important part. Through their experimentation they have increased yields in what from the usual 15 to 20 bushels per acre to over 70 bushels per acre, which was accomplished by long range planning, good farming methods, high quality seed and fertilization.

We salute J. J. Paetzold & Sons and their entire organization and give them full credit for their liberal contribution to the area's progress and recommend their fertilizer and farm chemical advisory service to our friends and readers who are interested in increased production and hope for them continued success in the years ahead.

Vanishing Aircastles

We drift along day after day, week after week, studying little, having a good time, and enjoying life. Suddenly, we come face to face with the climax of our drifting. This culmination is the week of mid-term tests.

These exams are much more important that many of us realize. For, a small number of students depend upon this semi-final examination to pass them in their whole semester's work. But you may have a real surprise in store for you, because, you may not even pass the test if you have loafed all year long, and if your average is low enough, not even a 100% on this test could pass you.

Remember, the semester test only counts one-fourth of your semester's grade.

You may think just because you made a C for the two six weeks' grade, that surely you can't flunk this semester. You think, "Oh, the teacher won't give me a failing grade." Just you wait and see. Another thing, it is essential that you pass this first semester's work because of various activities the second semester. You may want to jump the hurdles in the district contest, you may want to play in the band contest, or you may want to be in the senior play, but all these air castles vanish in thin air if your grades aren't up to passing.

So buckle down, right now, you may need the credit to graduate.

Worst Habit

Are you in a so-called clique?

Many students in Canyon High School are. They may not realize it; however others do and resent it.

These few groups of students, with three or four in each small group, wrap an outer-shell about them, which is almost impossible to break into. Perhaps, if you are nice looking or drive your own car, and have plenty of money or talents, you may be admitted into this small gathering.

It is nice to have close friends, but let's be friends with everyone and don't form cliques. Bring more friends into your circle and before you know it you will have more friends than you ever thought you would. Maybe not be regular old pals with everyone, but at least smile or speak to those outside your own personal friends group. Your closest friends you will probably tell your secrets to, or go to them for understanding, but don't form cliques with them, habitually. It's one of the worst habits you can have.

Do you know what today is? This morning someone asked Cal this question and he could not figure out what was going on. After some deep anticipating on the matter he figured out this much. Today is the 21st day of the month, January, in the year 1953, of the twentieth century, in the city of Canyon, Randall County, state of Texas, United States, Western hemisphere, United Nations, North American continent, planet Earth of the Universe — hanging in mid air. Cal must be off his beam because all that conglomeration is not telling us what today is. Do you know? Well, you should because today is the big day for semester exams to begin in CHS.

"Ole' Cal was sitting in history class the other day staring into blank space when he happened to wonder what time it was. Suddenly he turned to look at the clock; instead of the clock sitting in its usual place, there was a little sign which said, "Time will pass. Will you?"

As Cal wandered through the halls of CHS one day last week, he happened to glance toward the ceiling and what he saw there made him dive for cover. His first thought was that an invasion from Mars was bearing down upon CHS, but no! Was it a flying saucer or Bob Wilkinson's souped-up jalopy just flying rather unusually low? To anyone who had not been trained to be a careful observer, the thing floating around in the air might have appeared to be a boogy-man from another planet, but on second look Ole' Cal, the ever alert reporter, discovered that it was none other than Norman Tucek who was still feeling the after-effects of his experience with hypnotism! If Norman tries to tell you how he just missed the Golden Gate Bridge by an inch, the best thing to do is humor him.

Since flu has come, Ole' Cal was thinking of a story he once heard. It goes like this: Once a little boy went upstairs to bed. In his room he opened the window and influenza.

After Exams

Before exams you have plenty to do,
But even when exams are through,
Stop and think, did I do my best?
Do I deserve or expect a rest?

You'll say, how I studied, made notebooks galore,
But, you can hardly think of anything more.
You'll stammer and stutter for a little while,
And then give up with a sign of a smile.

Think of the teachers and how they too,
Found lots of things they had to do.
Yet, even when the rest are o'er,
Our teachers still have to work some more.

There are papers to grade, and to be read through.
There are things to prepare for the next term too.
Our dear teachers, who do their best,
Are the ones who really deserve a rest.

Girls Must Pick Up Valuable Articles

Are girls more careless than boys? Do girls lose more things than boys? Here is a list of unclaimed articles in Mr. Miller's office for you to judge (not too harshly).

There are all types of pretty scarves (girls), gloves of all sorts, several belts (girls), a billfold (girls), an assortment of bracelets (girls), a slide rule, several pairs of glasses, nice looking earrings (girls), plenty of fountain pens and eversharps, buttons, a Catholic medal which hangs around the neck, pins of all descriptions (girls) a cuff link, compact (girls) and last but not quite least is a small picture of the San Jacinto monument.

This does not prove much but it gives you an idea of some of the things that come into the office that might be yours.

Dorothy Cleavinger Obtains Annual Bausch-Lomb Science Award Medal

Dorothy Cleavinger, senior at Canyon High School, is the 1952-53 winner of the Bausch and Lomb Science Award Medal and is thereby eligible to compete for the three scholarships with a value of $3,200 each offered by this company.

* * * *

DOROTHY CLEAVINGER

The honorary science award will be received by Dorothy for achieving the highest scholastic record in science subjects during her high school course. She will this year compete four years in courses of the scientific field which are two years of home economics, biology, and chemistry. In science courses Dorothy maintained an extraordinary average of "A." As a winner of this award, she is eligible to compete for three scholarships sponsored by the Bausch and Lomb Optical Co., at the University of Rochester.

The science award medal will be presented upon graduation. The choice of the winner of this award was based upon scholastic achievement in science subjects, with incidental consideration of records in other subjects, qualities of leadership, and extra-curricular activities.

Holding an up-to-date average of 93 in four years of all subjects in high school, Dorothy manages to have time for many extra-curricular activities which are Future Teachers of America, CHS Choir, basketball, National Honor Society, the science club, and she plays a flute in the CHS band. With high qualities of leadership and service she has previously been a member of the CHS student council. Her hobby is sports. Future plans are college where she will major in music if she does not win the scholarship.

This honorary science award medal being instituted in 1932 will be presented in thousands of secondary schools throughout the country. The Bausch and Lomb Science Scholarship Program was established in 1944 and now provides three scholarships with a value of $3,200 each.

Approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals and many other educators throughout the country, both the science award and the scholarship programs have been recognized as significant evidence of scientific aptitude. This has proved to be a means of encouraging countless young people toward the consideration of scientific careers.

Greenhands Raised To Chapter Farmer

Greenhand candidates were raised to the higher degree of Chapter Farmer at the regular meeting of the FFA held in the cafeteria Monday night, January 12. There were 17 boys raised to this degree of Chapter Farming.

The boys were Foster Parker, Larry Hungate, Allen Downing, Dwayne Retherford, Jimmie Kuhlman, Wayne Retherford, Jimmie Sanders, Billy Stephens, R. A. Burgess, Leroy Burrow, Lon Fanning, Kenneth Bonds, Jack McCormick, Kenneth Berry, Roy Henderson, Tommy Rose, and Edel Money.

After the initiation of these boys, there was a show, "That inspiring Task," and refreshments of cokes and doughnuts.

Coined Especially For CHS Victims Is Dramatic Word 'Hypno-Superman'

"Boy, we just missed it by an inch," exclaimed those who were just coming out from under the spell of Franquin, hypnotist who performed in the Amarillo High School auditorium on January 12, 13, 14 and 17.

While under the authority of the hypnotic powers, the "victims" were told that they were flying in an airplane and had just missed the Golden Gate Bridge by an inch.

Norman Tucek, a student of CHS, was among these persons who went around telling everyone of their exciting rendezvous with death. Upon interviewing Norman, the only information obtained was that he "didn't remember a thing." Joe White, who was a companion to Norman, described the reactions of those on the stage.

Franquin said those who really believed they could be hypnotized, actually were, but the power had no effect on those who did not believe it could be done. The hypnotist informed the "sleeping" people on the stage that they were great violinists, and upon hearing that remark, they began searching around on the floor for their violins, picked them up, placed themthem under their chins, and played as they had never played before. When the concert was over, they solemnly and carefully placed the violins back in the cases and carried them from the stage.

Among the next group of people to submit to the mysterious force of hypnotism was one person who was made to believe he was Chopin. He pounded away on the piano for quite a while, and when he had finished, began a series of deep bows to his admiring audience.

The show was sponsored by the Amarillo Business and Professional Women's Club, and in addition to hyptnosis, Franquin included in his show feats of memory.

Librarians Receive TALA Invitations

Student librarians and sponsor, Mrs. Nora E. Gilmore, recently received invitations to attend the Teen-Age Library Association, District I meeting to be held on the campus of West Texas State College, January 31.

TALA, a branch of the Texas Library Association, was organized five years ago, but according to the new library directory, sent out in December, there are only five schools in District I who are members of the state TALA organization. Plans have been made to organize the district as an active section of the state.

First meeting of the teen-age group was held on the campus of Texas Tech College last February 1. Everyone who attended report that they enjoyed the program and the fellowship with other students. The program is one of the highlights of the Library Club of CHS.

Davis, McBroom Are Named All-Tourney

LaRue Davis and Martha McBroom made the all tournament team at the Tulia Tournament, Thursday and Friday, in which the Canyon Eaglettes took third place.

The Eaglettes' first game of the tournament was against Olton Thursday whom they defeated 38-35. On Friday, the Eaglettes fell into the hands of the Happy Cowgirls 24-25.

The final game in which the Eaglettes captured the third place spot was with Tulia Saturday, whom they defeated 40-27.

Vocalists Attend Annual Workshop

Mixed voiced choirs and girls' choruses, numbering over 600 students from over the Panhandle, participated in the third annual West Texas State College Regional XI choral clinic workshop, under the direction of Orville J. Borchers, dean of the school of music at Southern Methodist University, January 16.

The music workshop is sponsored by the University Interscholastic League, the Texas Music Education Association, and West Texas State College. Dr. Houston Bright, WTSC choir director and composer, was host-chairman to the event.

Childress, Dumas, Pampa, and CHS's Girls' Chorus, directed by Miss Ada V. Clark, were the experimental vocal groups for the workshop. Each experimental unit sang two songs for criticism only. Dr. Borchers gave suggestions as to intonation and quality of tones and voice. Much time was devoted to the study of words, vowels, and consonants. The clinic definitely was not a contest.

All schools were invited to attend the Festival chorus in the afternoon. All voices sang "Praise We Sing to Thee" by Luvaas, and "Let Us Break Bread Together" by Ryder. Canyon High School's mixed choir sang the above numbers as a demonstration chorus during the festival.

Pelts To Present Dutch Novelties

"The Dutch Treat Show," an unique production directly from the Netherlands, and a Southern School assembly, will be presented January 26 in the high school auditorium. Harry and Chita Maria Van Pelt will be in charge of this assembly. They will present wooden shoe dances, folk songs, musical novelties, and comedy. The Van Pelts have just returned from a tour of Europe.

Harry Van Pelt, who will be master of ceremonies, lectures, sings, dances, impersonates, and plays several instruments. He was a fighter in the Dutch Underground and received a Royal award for his work.

Chita Maria Van Pelt, star of the show, is well known as the "Dutch Nightingale" in Holland. She is not only a brilliant soprano but also a charming "Klompen Dancer."

The Van Pelts have appeared at the Tulip Festival, Holland, Mich., a number of times, and at the sesqui-centennial of Schenectady, N. Y., they were the only entertainers used. During the great United Nations television show in New York, they were presented as true exponents of Dutch instrumental and vocal music and dances, on the recommendation of the Dutch Consul General in New York.

'53 Senior Activities Discussed in Meet

Senior trip plans were talked over on January 14 during a called class meeting for the seniors. No definite conclusions have as yet been reached and the meeting was mostly a general discussion.

Plans for the senior play, which will be a good source of money for the annual trip in the spring, were also brought up. One means of obtaining money for the trip is already making headway. This project is a bake sale to be held on January 24 at Bellah's Super Market. The bake sale is a traditional method of seniors of CHS for obtaining money down through the years.

Thousands of former Fascist leaders in Italy regained their full civil rights when a Constitutional ban ended.

C. L. Getman 'Moves the Earth'

Rendering a complete earth moving service, including excavation for basements, driveways, water tanks, cesspools, sewers, ditching and leveling, C. L. Getman, Earth Moving Contractor, 1126 North Arthur in Amarillo, has rapidly become one of the leaders in his field for the reason he has the necessary "Know How" acquired by long experience, plus the most modern equipment.

Many of the general contractors have found that it is far more economical to sublet the excavation end of a job to Getman than to do it themselves, not only because he is a specialist in his line but it saves the cost of owning and maintaining expensive equipment, supervision and the work is actually accomplished in less time.

In addition to Excavating and Basement Work, C. L. Getman also handles Washed Sand and Gravel (also pit run) and driveway materials. Truck delivery is made on Sand, Gravel, and Aggregates to any point within 100 miles radius of Amarillo.

C. L. Getman is always glad to discuss any type of Excavating and Basement work with prospective builders and furnish cost estimates without obligation. His long experience and successful record enables him to give good advice and many ideas that, if followed, will save time and money and result in a more satisfactory job. Those who have used the valuable services of G. L. Getman, Excavation Contractor, are highly pleased with the good services and reasonable charges.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

While Federal taxes are usually blamed for all the heavy tax burden, there are indications that Washington and Congress may take action to reduce the tax load at the local level.

* * *

At present, Federal, State, County and Municipal taxes are taking almost 36% of all income. A large share is state and local taxes. Many local governmental units want to reduce taxes; but in many cases cannot reduce taxes until the Federal government acts.

C. W. Harder

* * *

Therefore, Washington is going to watch with interest Senator William Knowland of California in the new session of Congress.

* * *

Some in Washington are even inclined to believe Senator Knowland is on "the spot."

* * *

He has been presented with force, this problem.

* * *

In many states, the Federal government holds so much land, that a heavier share of the tax load falls on the lands that are left in private ownership.

* * *

In Senator Knowland's own state of California, the Federal Government now owns one out of every two acres, much of it valuable farmlands, and metropolitan property. Under the law, Federally owned property is tax exempt.

* * *

One of the most mentioned examples is the 86,000 acres the army holds at Camp Beale, California. During the last war, the Army moved into the Marysville-Yuba City district, called the Peach Bowl of the world, and took over 86,000 acres, composed of both grazing lands and irrigated lands.

Constant requests have been made to have the Army return the land to production, and thus to the tax rolls. The answer is that there is hopes that some day a "West Point of the Air" will be established at Camp Beale. But at the same time, the army feels that the most land they will ever need is 40,000 acres, yet the Army yet holds onto 86,000 acres.

* * *

A great deal of this land back on the tax rolls, would substantially increase the assessed valuation, thus paving the way for a lower tax rate. In the Marysville-Yuba City area, cling peach orchards often produce 20 tons to the acre, or a return at present prices of around $1500 per acre per year. Assessed valuation would be based on this productive capacity.

* * *

The drive to get the government out of vast real estate holdings all over the nation is headed up in California, because with one acre out of every two owned by the Federal government, California furnishes the worst example of boosted tax loads.

* * *

As expected, the Army is loathe to give up anything, once it has taken over. Congress will have to do the job.

* * *

The military is not the only offender. In many cities throughout the nation various civilian agencies of the government have taken over entire buildings in valuable downtown centers.

* * *

It is not exepected that the White House will object to any move to cut down on the waste, or freezing of national resources by the military, or any other agency of the government. Although a former Chief of Staff himself, President-elect Eisenhower in his campaigns said that much "fat" could be cut out of the military establishments without jeopardizing safety.

Speakers Chosen For Annual Baptist Vocations Week Feb. 2

Speakers for the annual Vocations Emphasis Week have been announced by the Baptist Student Union which sponsors the non-denominational event each year. This year the week of February 2 through February 6 has been set aside for the observance.

In making the announcement, Howard Bramlette, director of the union, stated that the informal discussion sessions will not exceed one hour in length.

The announcement stressed, "To seek to give the student proper guidance in choosing his vocation and in the consecration of himself in whatever line of work done," as the purpose and aim of the program.

Speakers for opening night, February 2, are Dr. Carl Bates, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Amarillo, C. J. Humphries, Amarillo attorney, and Troy Jones, construction engineer and president of Amarillo Homes, Inc.

Tuesday night speakers are Bill Mead, of Mead's Bakery, Lubbock, and Miss Ardel Halbeck, director of the Texas Tech BSU. Dr. E. N. Jones, Texas Tech president, has been scheduled for the Wednesday night session.

Thursday's speaker is to be Rev. Clyde Hankin, former missionary to South America and present pastor of the First Baptist Church, Dalhart.

"God of the Atom," a Moody Bible Institute film, will be the feature of the closing night program on Friday, February 6.

Bramlette stated that last year's program met with good success and that expectations for this year were excellent.

Cloyce Box Listed On All-Pro Team

Cloyce Box led the list of players selected to the Professional Football All-Star team for the 1952-53 season. Box is an ex-West Texas football player. Although he was not an exceptionally good player in college, Box has apparently hit his stride in the pro ranks.

Cloyce earned his nomination by his striking play for the Detroit Lions this year. After missing the 1951 season while serving in the Marines, he returned to set an all-time Detroit record by catching 15 touchdown passes in one season. These 15 TDs helped the Lions to win their first National Football Championship since 1935. Even in games where Box did not compile such a good record he served as decoy and allowed other players to get in the open.

Box also participated in the Professional Football Bowl game in Los Angeles last Saturday afternoon. The National League team, of which Box was a player, took the game 27-7.

An out-of-town speaker from Dallas has been secured for the occasion. A program will be presented by the local Boy Scouts. Everyone interested in Scout and youth work is urged to attend the dinner.

"Where do General Electric's engineers come from?" a visitor asked us. "I suppose they all got trained at MIT, or Cornell, or Michigan."

His question set us pondering, so we started plowing through the file cabinet for an answer. And, of course, it turned out as you'd imagine—NO. General Electric engineers don't always come from eastern technical schools. They won their slide rules from colleges in every state.

Maybe you'd like to hear how many of our bright engineers got their engineering education in your home state. Here's part of the list . . .

One out of every twenty employees at General Electric is an engineer or scientist. You know that a big part of our work is improving products and working out new ideas.

Right now young men from your home state are working on big and important engineering jobs at General Electric. You should be mighty proud of them because—take our word—they're doing a swell job.
